Body of Young Wife Slain in Woods Claimed

Woman Who Clerked in Store Had Been Away
From Home Since Saturday. Signs of Hard Struggle in Woods Are Evident.

(By Associated Press)
Grantwood, N. J., Aug. 26.—The body of the young woman, found slain in the Grantwoods yesterday, today was identified as that of Mrs. Blanche Schulz, East 135th street, Manhattan. The identification was made by the woman's husband, Frank Schulz, at a Hackensack morgue.

Schulz, who is an employee of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, immediately identified the clothing worn by the dead woman. He would not look at the body, but told the police that his wife had a mole on her back, which they found as described.

Mrs. Schulz, according to her husband, had been employed in a Manhattan department store, but had been missing from home since last Saturday night when she left for a visit with a sister at Keyport. He said she had with her $50 and wore five diamond rings and a wedding ring, which were missing when the body was found.

Was About 20 Years Old
The body was found in a clump of bushes on the Palisades near Cliffside, N. J. She was between 18 and 20.

A few feet from where she was found was evidence that she had fought a desperate battle with the slayer.

Clutched in her hand was a fragment torn from a dark blue coat, supposedly worn by the man who attacked her.

Hanging on a trampled group of ox-eyed daisies was a man's watch chain.

Body Is Dragged
Near the chain was found a yellow comb. County detectives believe that in her death struggle the young woman had torn the comb from her hair and thrown it.

The ground showed that the body had been dragged six feet from where the struggle took place.

A little boy, Louis D. Scieszko, son of a Cliffside Park contractor, playing in the bushes, found the body. A search of the bushes showed that the young woman's skull was fractured with a rock.

There were many indications that the young woman had stepped from an automobile shortly before the attack. She was not shod for walking through rough ground.

Glad Delicately Glad
No shoes, which were brand-new, showed scarcely any signs of wear. They were patent leather, short vamp pumps, without buckles and with high French heels, about four inches tall.

She wore an automobile veil of blue georgette over her turban. Her dress also of blue georgette, of a slight texture that it, too, was unfit for walking through bushes and underbrush. It bore no marks of having been torn.

Had Lain Several Days
Opinions differ as to how long the body had lain where it was found. The county authorities thought that it had been there for a week or more. Private physicians figured the time at two or three days.

In a small clearing, where a found stone high the ground and a patch of dried blood fifteen inches in diameter. In this plot the comb, shoes and watch chain were found.

Wrote Is Cut
An autopsy performed by County Physician Ogden showed that the woman's throat had been cut from ear to ear and that this caused her death. She also had been struck a heavy blow on the left temple, Dr. Ogden said.

Poles.

(By Associated Press.)

Warsaw, Aug. 26.—Russian soviet reserves are reported being brought up on the southern front in great numbers.

The military authorities expressed the belief today that, although crushed in the north, the bolshevik plan to renew their offensive with Lemberg objective.

Working Men in Arms
General Haller said there were indications that strikes of Russian working men were being grouped at various points for possible use against the Poles and that these armies might be thrown against the Poles at any time.

General Haller said there were indications that the soviet munition factories were working night and day and that many German munition experts were being employed.

The northern Polish army is continuing to move up in the region between Sierp and Soldau near the East Prussian border.

They are marching on Chorzowien to the east of Milawa to cut off the retreat of the remaining soviet forces.

Reds Retreat in South
In the center, the Poles have occupied Chorzowien and Soldau as well as Kolno, and are marching on Ossowiec. In the south the Poles have retaken Hrubieszow and the 40th division of Lemberg is retreating to the southeast.

Remnants of the fourth bolshevik army, which were cut off by the Polish army, are retreating to the east of Kolno, have succeeded in cutting their way through to the eastward after a battle lasting 10 hours, carried out a regrouping maneuver and succeeded in making their way out of the area.

The soviet troops are surrounded by more numerous forces of the fourth Polish army.

Forces Closed in Army
On the general front the Poles have carried out a flanking movement to the north and have occupied Khyznia, 15 miles northwest of Krakow, and Szwabowice, 12 miles northeast of Lomza.

Occupation of these towns, with the capture of Kolono, complete the work of forcing the soviet army back to the east.

Wets for Cooper
With the wets for Cooper in spite of the fact that a candidate named Frank C. Adams, of Fowlerton township, Waukesha county, is as openly for the wet cause as is McHenry of Oshkosh, there is a determination on the part of the nonpartisan league to have Cooper also and to ditch Rosa.

Here in Kenosha county, the league leaders are in favor of getting out in speaking in the county during the week. Cooper was announced to speak last night under the auspices of the progressive republican and nonpartisan farmers labor league committee.

Suffrage Is Law Of Land, Colby Signs Document

Proclamation Announcing Officially That Amendment to Constitution Is Ratified
Is Given Out by Secretary of State.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 26.—The proclamation announcing officially that the suffrage amendment to the constitution had been ratified was signed today by Secretary Colby of the state department.

The document was signed at 8 o'clock this morning at Mr. Colby's home when the certificate from Gov. Roberts that the Tennessee legislature had ratified the amendment was received. Secretary Colby announced his action on his arrival at his office later.

The announcement disappointed a group of suffrage workers from headquarters of the National Women's party who had gathered at the state department hoping to be present when Mr. Colby attached his signature to the proclamation. Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the party, was among the number.

"We are confident that the signature of Secretary Colby completes the suffrage struggle in this country," she said. "In spite of every obstacle that our opponents could put in our way, women have won the right to an equal voice in the affairs of this government. The woman's party will not relax its vigilance, until it is satisfied that no further attempt will be made to wrest from the women of the United States the political equality which they have won."

Miss Paul planned to go today to New York to call a meeting of the executive committee of the party at which the date for the national convention to fix future policy will be decided.

Invitation Refused
Secretary Colby later sent word to the women's party headquarters that he would see the suffrage leaders at his office if they desired. Word was sent back that Miss Paul was preparing to leave for New York; that the other leaders had already returned to their homes and the invitation could not be accepted.

Congratulates Women
In a statement to another group of suffrage leaders headed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Secretary Colby said:

"I congratulate the women of the country upon the successful culmination of their efforts which have been sustained in the face of many discouragements and which have now conducted them to the achievement of that great object."

"Today marks the day of the opening of a great and new era in the political life of the nation. I confidently believe that every citizen, forward and backward, will find in our public life will receive fresh vigor and reinforcement from the enfranchisement of the women of the country."

Praises Freely Given
"To the leaders of this great movement, I tender my sincere congratulations. I am proud to have been associated with you in this great reform, the praise not only of this generation, but of posterity will be freely given."

(By Associated Press.)
Marion, Ohio, Aug. 26.—The views of leading European statesmen regarding the present status of the league of nations were presented to Senator Harding today by Myron T. Herrick, former American ambassador to France, who has just returned from a trip abroad.

Mr. Herrick said the position of the republican party was fully understood abroad and that there was no apprehension as to the direction of a republican administration. With Senator Harding he went over at length the international situation, including the negotiations being conducted by Elihu Root and representatives of European nations for forming a new international organization.

Published reports that Senator Harding had agreed to attend the Ohio state fair on next Tuesday, "So far," he said, "there is nothing to report."

Declining also to discuss the statement by Aaron S. Watkins, prohibition candidate for president, attacking his prohibition record, Senator Harding said:

"I have no debate with Mr. Watkins. My record stands and I could not change it if I would."

ROSA IS DITCHED
BY N. P. LEAGUE

reputated Rosa and would support Cooper.

It is frankly stated that while the Kenosha branch and some others of the league may be for Cooper, the Walworth county and Rock legends are divided as well as disgusted. It seems from the stories here and there that the action has been precipitated because Rosa refused to do a lot of political work for LaFollette and the ticket of the non-partisan league while he was looking after his own campaign. Judge Rosa admitted that this was so in an interview here.

Randall Grows Stronger—In the fight between the factions in the LaFollette and non-partisan league there is much bitterness growing. In the meantime, however, much Randall is doing along a leading to his campaign and basing his candidacy on his record in congress. Many members of the league will not support Cooper will vote for Randall.

Judge Rosa Not Surprised—"No, this is not a surprise to me," said Judge Rosa. "In fact I have been fully advised that some of these fellows were desirous of withdrawing the endorsement. I got a telegram had voted to me and turning it over to Mr. Cooper. Personally I have taken no steps to stop the action and I am not very particular about what they do. I am not the 'Non-Partisan League' candidate. I am running my own campaign and while I have the endorsement of these men, I am not going into the primary as their candidate."

Never Asked Endorsement—"I never asked for the endorsement of the league or the other organizations affiliated with it. On the day before the convention," continued Judge Rosa, "I got a telegram from one of them and asked if I was still in the race. I wired back that I was going to be in the race to the finish and that I expected to be nominated. I didn't go to the convention at Lake Geneva. I happened to have a business engagement that day and I told them that I couldn't come. In due time I got notified that I had been endorsed and was asked to send along my acceptance of the terms. I didn't do this. I agree with a lot of the things that these people stand for, but I am not going to let the people as the 'Non-Partisan League' candidate. I have told them this and I am willing to repeat it again."

Judge Rosa said that Mr. Reynolds, of Lake Geneva, one of his campaign committee, had called him up and had told him that the Kenosha Non-Partisans were not satisfied with his acceptance of the 'terms.' He said that he believed Mr. Reynolds sent a telegram to the Kenosha leaders, telling them that he did not know that this was true. Rosa said that his understanding was that he had a very heavy vote for endorsement at the convention but that he understood all the time that the Kenosha Non-Partisans wanted to endorse Cooper.

"I am not sure that the endorsement of the league has been of any value to me," Mr. Rosa said. "I want the votes of these men if they believe in me, but I am not giving up my own independence of action."

Sugar Shortage? Eight Million
Pounds Will Be Manufactured by Rock County Company This Fall

PLANT OF LOCAL BEET SUGAR CONCERN.

By RODNEY C. WELSH.
Janesville's sugar tooth will have its fill this fall.

Eight million pounds of beet sugar are to be manufactured this year at the Rock County Sugar Co., Janesville. To manufacture this amount will take 40,000 tons of beets, since a ton of beets makes but 200 pounds of sugar. This sugar is marketed in Janesville, Chicago, Rockford and nearby towns.

These 40,000 tons of beets are grown in different parts of the country, mainly in Illinois and Wisconsin. Many come from the immediate vicinity, Rock and the neighboring counties. Raising such a large quantity of beets requires about 5,000 acres of land.

From Ground to Sticker.
After the beets are taken from the ground they are piled in cars and shipped to the factory. From the cars, they are dumped into great cement troughs, where they are washed and cleaned. They are carried out into the factory as the dirt and grit is taken from them. Then they are taken to slicers, where they are cut into slices the size of a pencil. Next these slices are conveyed to the diffusion battery, where the juice is extracted. The pulp that remains is dried and used for cattle food.

The extracted juice then goes through a lime process, where the alkali and sourness is taken out. The evaporators are large intricate apparatuses that remove the water from the juice and leave a thick syrupy substance, which although gooey and sweet, has no resemblance to sugar.

Boil to Granulate.
It is the boiling process that gives the goo its granulated appearance. This boiling requires much skill, since to have the proper texture sugar must be carefully watched; it must be boiled for a month, but not too long. To become an expert in the boiling of sugar, requires long years of experience. Special chemists are employed to this. After it has been granulated, the sugar is then dried, put in bags and made ready for market.

The active operation of this plant begins in early October and runs continuously for 70 or 90 days. Three hundred men are employed during this time.

The Rock County Sugar company was organized in 1904. James Davidson of Bay City, Michigan, is the owner and president. James E. Davidson of the same place, is the secretary and treasurer. W. C. Davis of Janesville, is the manager.

MYSTERIOUS MAIL
ROBBERY REVEALED,
GOING TO NEENAH

Milwaukee, Aug. 25.—Another mysterious mail robbery was revealed Wednesday when postal authorities began to gather clues which might lead to the detection of the burglars, who Monday night broke into the baggage room of the Chicago and Northwestern depot at Neenah, Wis., and took two bags of registered mail.

Family Burned Out of Tent
Home Near Samson—Loss
Is $500 to $600.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the canvas home of Wilbur Anderson, 605 Eastern avenue, shortly after 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Everything was burned except the bedding. Mr. Anderson estimates his loss at from $500 to $600.

Shortage of houses caused Mr. Anderson to buy a tent in which to live temporarily. He fixed it up with a floor and other improvements, and the family lived comfortably in it until Wednesday when Mrs. Anderson returned with a pair of water to find the place ablaze.

She ran in and rescued her baby. Firemen found efforts to save the place useless. The canvas and furniture were destroyed within a few minutes. A trunk containing bedding was saved.

Chief Murphy offers $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the person who turned in an alarm from box 16, Madison and Ravine streets, at 9:15 Wednesday evening. The alarm was false.

CHICAGO FARE, ONCE
$1.84, IS NOW $3.55

Little confusion was apparent at the depots here today as a result of the boost in fares to out-of-state points which went into effect today. The price has been advanced from $2.56 to $3.55 from here to Chicago and in similar ratio to other points out of the state, although the prices from here to different parts of Wisconsin remain the same.

The majority of the people buying tickets to Chicago today knew of the raise and the few who had not were little surprised. Before the war the fare to the Windy City was only $1.84, almost half the present rate.

The 3-cent rate will continue in Wisconsin until Sept. 1, when the 2-cent fare will be in effect with the end of federal control of the railroads; this unless the courts decide otherwise.

FREIGHT THEFTS TROUBLE RETAILERS

Everything from Silk Shirts to Cigarettes Stolen in Transit.

That scarcely a shipment comes to them without being tampered with and good stolen from it is the experience of most Janesville retail dealers.

The thefts are not confined to dry goods stores alone for candy shops, drug stores, and even meat markets find that their orders come with many articles missing.

The Ziegler Clothing company and the Bestwick store are among the heaviest sufferers from the clothing line. Joseph Connors, manager of the former, said: "It is seldom that I receive an order intact. In my last shipment one dozen men's shirts and two dozen neckties had been stolen."

Underwear in Demand
Silk shirts are often pulled from knot holes not much larger than hen's eggs. 20 boxes are ruined through and no articles taken, the thief evidently being unable to find his size of a particular article. In such cases, dealers state, a box of underwear will come with every size of one particular garment missing. Shipments to candy stores are almost always sampled en route. Cigars and cigarettes are also apt to be taken. Drugs, soaps and medicines, especially the fashionable "kicks" in them are likely to be tampered with. One druggist who fills whiskey prescriptions complaining that the several quarts are always taken from his orders.

Mr. Reuter, manager of Cudahy's meat market, says that groceries such as canned goods are often taken. It was the experience of a local dealer to have a boiled ham taken from him with all the meat eaten from the bone.

In the opinion of the majority of Janesville retailers the thefts are due to employees who handle the goods in transit, although some lean to the opinion that the goods are taken by tramps.

THE FUNCTION OF THE COLLEGE IN WISCONSIN

By Dr. H. P. Houghton
(Sec'y Wis. Colleges' Association)
More than fifty years have passed since the first college was established in the state of Wisconsin. Pioneers who had pushed on from the Eastern and Middle Atlantic States to find a home in what was then a new and uncharted land, brought with them the traditions which, in their earlier abiding places, had made for sturdy character, strong will and progressive mind.

Why the College?
The question is often asked: "Whence came the college?" One needs to go back farther than the first settlement on our shores in order adequately to answer this query. Back through England, to the times of the Middle Ages, and on back through old Rome to ancient Greece must one go on his journey of pursuit to find the origin of the college. Interesting, it is to note that, just as in the New England colonies, the church and school grew out of the same soil, so in the ancient Greek lands, the earliest teachers were identified with some sort of religious worship. Nor was it unusual to find the philosopher, the teacher, holding his daily "conferences" in a sacred grove attached to the shrine of a revered deity. The teaching of these early "schools" was not of a purely materialistic turn; rather it was the setting forth of a religious tenet of supreme value to the listener and use his mental powers.

Spiritual and Intellectual
The significance of the close alliance between matters spiritual and intellectual cannot be overestimated. Down through Roman and Mediaeval times the church and school were as intimately associated as heart and hand. The church was the center of the community, and the school was the center of the church. It was the monks in the cloisters of the early Middle Ages who preserved for our enjoyment the priceless manuscripts of the Greek, Latin and Hebrew writers. Thanks to the Roman Catholic monks of Switzerland and Ireland, of Germany, France and England, the art of learning known as "classical" was preserved to us. Not only this, but coincident with the advance of the Middle Ages witnessed, there went a progress in mathematics, sciences, and literature, never before equaled. Had it not been for the fostering of the church, the school, might not have lived. Had it not been that the religious minds of the day were leaders in matters of art, good taste, higher learning, and human progress, there is a possibility that learning would have languished, and art had never been born.

Beginning of Education
To find the beginnings of the educational advantages which we now enjoy, must go back to the times of the ancients. The school of the ancients was not a place for the learning of a trade; it was not primarily a place for teaching one or two subjects, but it was a place of the mind, the heart and the spirit; its chief function is the training of the student in character, in the uplifting of the spirit to higher and nobler ideals of service and sacrifice. Such is the function of the Wisconsin colleges.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

LINDSEY MEETS AN AMERICAN GIRL ON HER WAY TO WED A FOREIGNER IN LONDON

Could hardly wake myself up this morning. Finally did so, and discovered that mother and father were not at home. I looked at my watch and saw that it was nearly ten o'clock so I must have been desperately tired.

I had some breakfast brought to my cabin, and breakfast brought to me, and watching the water boiling and swirling in blue beauty just outside.

I was just too lazy to get up until long after my breakfast, and it was heavenly just to lie still and think of the ship. I dozed off again, and first thing I knew mother was laughing at me, while I blinked up at her in amazement, and the time, little in amazement, and the time, little in amazement.

I skipped into my clothes and donned a new and becoming green dress and then to match, and then was ready for another nap up in my deck chair! That's how I spent the day, for the whole of today.

But I did not fight this drowsiness—not me, for I fear I have vast arrears of sleep to make up for now, and I intend to do it.

I met an awfully nice girl during the afternoon. She had her chair alongside of mine, and was evidently traveling alone. We both slept so much that we finally looked at each other and laughed. Then we fell into conversation.

She too, is on her way to London, and lives not far from my own neighborhood in New York. Her name is Arline Lyons, and she has left her parents behind her, and is on her way to meet and marry her fiancé, a young Italian aviator.

He is an honest, hard worker, and to meet the boat and her at Southampton, and they are to be married within three weeks' time.

This was all most thrilling to me, and of course I told her about Jack, etc. She and her Vincenzo became engaged a year ago, and then he was suddenly called back to Italy, and found out that he must stay there for some time; so the separation became unbearable and as his earnest request Arline decided to join him and be married as soon as possible.

Funny thing, too, about the whole thing is that Vincenzo, being an Italian and a Latin and all that, should have fallen in love with a girl of Arline's type. She is tall and slender and very good-looking, and very composed—not at all the sort of a girl who does some every little while no doubt! It may be just the contrast that did it.

Miss Lyons told me that her fiancé had met her first at a dance, and that she was the one who secured an introduction and fell in love with her at first sight, pretty nearly. Now, that is true romance!

On land or sea you find it so it shows that Romance is not dead, after all. What though the fact that it has been doing its best to kill it for so long.

Of course she showed me half a dozen pictures of her lover in his uniform and in his civilian clothes, and in his most attractive and masterful looking for a Latin. I do hope that she will be happy with him. This is her first crossing of London, Paris and Rome, where she is to live after her marriage, so of course the conditions are ideal in every way.

We sat and gossiped until the first pale stars came out and winked at us, and then we really had to stop it, and then we really had to stop it, and then we really had to stop it.

You know how gossiped girls are. But the dinner gong was irresistible in the long run.

And Still the Most Fashionable of New Blouses Reach to the Hips

By ELOISE

New fall blouses are displayed in the shop windows along with the advance fall suits and the main feature of these new blouses is the length. The tuck-in blouse is seldom seen. Everything that is smartest is the hip-length blouse. In some instances the blouse reaches to the natural waistline, but ends there, and is worn outside the skirt. Sometimes it reaches far below the hips in a more Cassaque-like effect, but the hip-length blouse is the favored style. Here is a picture of one of each style and it is a difficult task to choose between them, although each one might be used for distinctly different occasions.

The blouse at the right is hip-length made in a slip-over style with a V-neck and collar. It is also made with long kimono sleeves. The material is broadened white satin with white embroidered roses here and there and blue silk stitching all over, which gives it a novel touch. It is smart worn with suit or fancy skirt for afternoon and informal wear.

At the left is a georgette blouse in informal type of blouse, which is suitable for wear at home. Made with square neck and loose bell sleeves of Persian embroidered chiffon in a beige shade trimmed with red chiffon. Covered buttons and a narrow sash of the red chiffon form the only trimming.

The very smartest blouse yet seen is the one in the center. It is a chic affair which is good for wear at almost any hour before dinner. It is made of blue, dusty, that very material, too, is hip-length and made on rather straight, snug lines. An upstanding collar of gray squirrel, covered buttons and a narrow gray leather belt for the trimming. An upstanding collar of gray squirrel, covered buttons and a narrow gray leather belt for the trimming. This may be worn in early fall without a coat or it may be worn later under a wrap. It is a mode which spells distinction in every line.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Sometimes ago I was introduced to a very handsome and attractive man by a friend of mine. Later I learned he has a wife and four children, and this girl knew I no longer saw with either of them, but I cannot forget the man.

The same girl introduced him to another of my girl friends, and although I have told her the story she still continues to go about with him, and they act as if they were just married. His wife lives in another city and I feel sure she knows nothing about his conduct. I have talked to the man and the girl, but the answer of both is the same. "There is no harm being done."

I had not known this man was married I could have loved him better than anything in the world, but my own heart tells me how I would feel if I were his wife.

His wife is very attractive and his children are beautiful. It would be such a pity for her to find out these things. What is to be done in such a case? They are too wrapped up in each other to even think what might be the consequence.

Isn't there some way to stop it? I know what will be the end if his wife finds out, and it breaks my heart the suffering it will cause all the parties mentioned, even though some of them deserve to suffer.

THE FRIEND.
You are breaking your heart over something which no longer concerns you. Your obligation ended when you stopped going with the man yourself, because you learned that he was married. It was also right for you to tell the other girl that the man was married. I question the wisdom, however, of further expressing your opinion by advising the two parties concerned as to their conduct.

Trust to a higher power to straighten this tangle. Think no more about the man. To covet him in your thoughts is evil, too. Try never to think of things you would not be willing to have your actions carry out.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My hair has been a sand color until this last year and now it is growing darker.

Will you please tell me how I can make it a golden brown without any harm to the hair?

I am 18 years old and never noticed that I was round shouldered until a number of my girl friends mentioned it. How can I prevent myself from getting any larger?

LETTERED SUSAN.
To try to change the color of your hair would injure its texture and would also make it streaked, corded and brittle. What if your hair does become darker? There is such a thing as pretty light brown hair. The beauty of hair depends so much upon its quality and lustre, which results from massage and careful brushing.

To realize that you are round shouldered is the first step to improving the condition. Now you think about it and when you find yourself stooping you will straighten up. It will take time to right the defect, but you can do it. It will also help you to take breathing exercises. Slowly draw in your breath as you rise upon your toes and raise your arms above your head, your fingers pointing to the ceiling. Then exhale as you lower your arms and sink to normal position with your weight on the balls of your feet.

"Unexperienced"—Talk to a doctor. I am sorry that I cannot help you since you are inexperienced. I believe, however, that you need medical advice more than anything I might say.

CUBS TO PLAY FOR HARDING CAMPAIGN

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 26.—The Chicago Cubs are to do their bit for Senator Harding's front porch campaign by coming to Marion, Sept. 2, to play a free exhibition game with an aggregation of local semi-professionals.

The engagement was made today as a result of a chance remark by the senator that one of the big handicaps of the front porch was his inability to see baseball games. William Wrigley and A. D. Lasker, two of the chief owners of the Cubs and both connected with the publicity end of the Harding campaign arranged for the trip and offered to loan the local any Cub battery they might pick for the game. Tyler and O'Farrell have been selected.

Both the senator and Mrs. Harding are fans and they have promised to do their share to make the occasion a red letter day at the Marion ball park. The candidate will pitch the first ball. Admission will be free, but the limited space in the grandstand will be sold and the proceeds given to charity.

MILWAUKEE GIRL BEATS GOLF CHAMP

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Miss Frances Hadfield of Milwaukee, 17 year old champion of Wisconsin, on Wednesday defeated Mrs. Perry Fide of Kishwaukee, defending the title, 6 and 5, in the second match round of the women's western golf championship at Oak Park Country club.

The victory of the young Wisconsin "g" gave her an appointment on Thursday, Miss Edith Cummings of Onondaga, who is about Miss Hadfield's age, and an exceptionally clever player. Miss Cummings on Wednesday had the distinction of defeating 4 and 2 Mrs. J. S. Fritchard of Battle Creek, a former holder of the title.

YANKS PLAN BIGGEST BALL PARK IN WORLD

New York, Aug. 26.—The largest baseball park in the world will be built in this city for the New York Americans, it was learned today. Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees said that sites were under consideration. Tentative plans call for grandstands and bleachers capable of seating from 50,000 to 60,000 persons.

Work on the new park will be pushed so it will be ready for the 1921 season. All of the sites under consideration, it was said, are within a few minutes ride from the center of the city.

MISS BLEIBTREY SETS NEW RECORD FOR WOMEN'S SWIMMING

Antwerp, Aug. 26.—American swimmers captured all three first places in the final heat of the 100 meter free stroke Olympic race for women here today. YANKEE WRESTLERS OUT OF OLYMPIAD

Antwerp, Aug. 26.—American wrestlers in the lightweight class were eliminated in the preliminary Olympic games here last night when Svensson, of Sweden, defeated George Metropoulos, of Gary, Ind., in the third round and Antila, of Finland, beat J. Shimmun, New York A. C., in the quarter finals. The Americans, however, qualified their full quota of two men in each of the other classes.

NOT IN THE REPORTS

It was in Alsace a little town of 200 souls, a brand new French flag, and a French sanitary unit with American ambulance drivers. It was the eve of their departure and two of them had decided that something must be done to make Ortwel (that was the name of the place) remember.

The railroad men are willing to give their employees their full demands, says ex-Sergeant SOL, no matter how much it hurts them to raise the rates.

Summer Song Adds Another Race To Laurels, Winning at Madison

Madison, Aug. 27.—Young Dean, with Summer Song, annexed another win in the Wisconsin Grand circuit when he guided the horse under the wire in the 2:30 trot to victory over straight heats Wednesday. This is the eighth race won by Summer Song in the past six weeks. The new state record made by the horse on the Monroeville track last week of 2:11 1/4 was equaled by it in the final heat.

Quailed by it in the final heat, Nollie Lightfoot, Spencer, Janesville, up, finished third behind Don Caton driven by Arlie Frost of Monroe.

Baseball in Brief

Starved Rock, Dean, Jr., up, won another victory by snatching the 2:18 pace in straight heats. Gerald who was driving Bonnie Girl was jerked by the judges in the second heat and Swain placed on the sulky. Swain guided her to a close second, though he almost lost out when the horse broke in the third heat. Merrill, driven by Arlie Frost, Monroe, took third.

Jackhurst, Spencer, Janesville, up, came in second in the 2:10, Viacy Bingen (Swain) winning in straight heats.

Attempts by Single G (Marvin) to break the Dane county mile record of 2:02 1/2, set by William in 1917, failed. To beat the horse could do Time: 2:04 and 2:03.

EVERYMAN'S DIARY
The other day I decided on a clam chowder.

Or nothing. So I went to an oyster bar. And they had clams.

On the half-shell, and in the whole. Steamed, baked, boiled, radical, and republican.

But N. O. clam-chowder. So I went across the street. And they had the same.

I was getting hungrier and hungrier. And madder and madder.

Where fifty people were drinking it. To jazz music.

And I had to wait twenty minutes. While a girl at the same table.
